When one of the two wells furnishing the major part of the water supply for York Springs went dry Monday, the borough council immediately placed in force restrictions on the use of water there.

President Roy Williams Sr. said town council has placed a ban on using water for car washing, lawn and garden sprinkling, porch and pavement washing and other "unnecessary" uses of water. The restrictions will remain in force until the water shortage is relieved by rain. The level of water in the town's reservoir has dropped 10 inches and is being supplied now by only one well and a light flow from a spring.

President Williams said council also had ordered a house-to-house check for leaking or open faucets. If the water shortage becomes more acute a special meeting of council will be called to take further emergency measures, Williams said.

Kilmer, a former UCLA star and No. 1 San Francisco draft pick in 1961, sped off a San Francisco Peninsula Freeway last Dec. 6 and wound up in a marsh of muddy water, his right leg broken and his car wrecked. He lay on his back for three months in a San Francisco hospital while the leg mended and physicians treated an infection picked up from the water.

Lear said this was a "joking" remark because he did not believe Mrs. Shultz should do as much for Thomas as she did. Lear denied any such remark, Mrs. Shultz and Thomas said Lear threatened to get a gun and shoot. Lear said this was a misinterpretation of a frequent remark of his.

According to Lear, he is accustomed to say jokingly, since he has a bad leg, that he can "shoot straighter than he can walk." This was the comment, he said, that may have been made, and which was interpreted as a threat.

U.S., SOVIETS OF SPACE ARMS

By TOM HOGE UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union put final touches today on a joint effort to bar nuclear weapons from outer space and clear the way for new disarmament negotiations.

The U.N. General Assembly's main political committee scheduled a double session on disarmament as the two big powers readied two resolutions couched in the new spirit of East-West amity.

One proposal, to be introduced by other members on behalf of Moscow and Washington, appeals to nations to refrain from putting nuclear weapons on orbiting space satellites. JOINT PROPOSAL

The United States and Russia planned to propose the second resolution. It would press the Geneva Disarmament Committee to explore sibilities for a breakthrough on the question of complete disarmament. The eight nonaligned members of the 7-nation Geneva Committee had two resolutions for assembly consideration. One was drawn in general terms and renewed the call for
